They will advance to Friday's championship, and get to order lunch from RG Burgers! The Battle continues in the library today. There is an open spot on one of the teams. If you were on a team that did not win earlier in the week, see Mrs. Thompson to put your name in to join another team and get a second chance at victory.

 Environmental Club: Did you know that you can help keep polar bears from going extinct by turning down your home thermostat by just 1 degree? When you use less heat, you will help reduce your carbon footprint, which in turn helps keep polar bear habitat from melting away. DO try this at home! You won't notice the difference in temperature, and the polar bears will thank you for it! Find out more at today's Environmental Club meeting at lunch in Mrs. Chupka's room D-1.
