Today is Day Two of National Red Ribbon Week, and we are all 'jean'iuses because we choose to live a healthy lifestyle free from drugs and alcohol. Leadership will be around during fifth period to see how many of you wore jeans or denim to show your pledge to our Red Ribbon promise. Yesterday, you all did a fantastic job wearing your PJ's to school, but Ms. Lehmkul's students were crowned the winners with 100% of the class dressing up. We hope you enjoyed your tasty treat. Do not forget the rest of our dress-up days that support our mission to stay drug and alcohol free. If your class has the highest percentage of participants, you will get a special treat from the leadership class.

Tomorrow: Sock it to drugs. WEAR CRAZY SOCKS.

Thursday: Scare away drugs. WEAR YOUR HALLOWEEN COSTUME.

Friday: Elect to be drug free. WEAR RED, WHITE, and BLUE.

 Best of luck to our Cross Country Team when they wrap up their season tonight as they compete one last time at the MTJAL Championships Meet today starting at 4:30. Run Cougars Run!

INK-tober is down to the last few days! Come join us in the library any day you can during the last few days of October to practice our ink drawing skills. No talent is needed. Just bring a pen, some paper, and a positive attitude. Today's word of the day is INJURED.

WiffleNews: The Silva Sandwiches got back in the win column with a 15-2 smearing of the little waffles from WhitfordLand. The Waffles are going to stop the math lessons this week and work on basic primate skills such as catching objects in the air, throwing things, and maybe a few running steps. "Yep, we would have died out early in the Ice Age," cracked veteran owner J.W. Today has the Guzziberg Garbanzo Beans against the MayerTown Marshmallows. Tomorrow is the Krislyn Krispy vs SefBach Sushi Rolls.

 You can pick it up, you can measure its height and circumference, but you can't bring in a scale to weigh it. The student who comes closest to guessing the weight of the big beautiful pumpkin in the library will get to take it home for Halloween. The form for submitting your guess is on the library web site. Your answer needs to be in KILOGRAMS.
