The seventh graders have officially taken the lead for our End of the Year Spirit Week Competition. Although, our reigning champions, the sixth graders, are only three points behind. Remember, it has only been two days, so any grade-level has the chance to be named the ultimate spirit champions. That's right, eighth graders; you still have three days to take over the lead and leave your mark on CMS. Hopefully, many of you dressed up for today's Wacky Wednesday. Don't forget to have your first period teacher record the total number on the spirit form. Also, if you are dressed-up, snap a selfie and upload it to the Google Form found on your Chromebook Homepage for your chance to win a Sweet Reba's gift card. Here are the rest of the Spirit Days: Tomorrow - Cougar Pride Thursday: 8th wear WHITE, 7th wear RED, 6th wear GRAY. Friday - Holiday Fun Day Friday: Since we didn't get to celebrate on campus, pull out your favorite Halloween Costume or Ugly Holiday Sweater to wear for this final spirit day!

Donut Tournament of Glory - Wiffle World Highlights:

Game One of the 6th grade World Series the Littletown Locusts and the Silva City Centipedes played to a 4-4 tie. In the last inning the Littletown Locusts attempted to mount a rally but the Centipedes were saved when Naomi Foudy made an amazing catch on a deep drive off the bat of Carter Lloyd to end a rally and preserve the 4-4 tie. Today we'll start game one with a 4-4 tie and each team will get three outs to see if they can score. Once game one is completed, we'll move right on to game #2. Good luck to both teams!

In 7th grade action yesterday, "We're going to game 3!!," yelled a jubilant Lobster after their stunning comeback and late-game power surge sent the Italian Meatball Sandwiches crying and sobbing to their godfather after a 12-6 collapse. Liam "Mongoose" Riddols started the comeback with a super clutch glad slam that resuscitated the moribund Lobsters back into the game 4-5. Going into overtime, the confident crabs swung their pinchers and put a 7-spot on the scoreboard to grind the meatballs into a losing, panic-filled, sloppy-joe sauce. Today, we will watch the denouement of the drama.

In Game One of the 8th Grade series it was the Kuenz Crocodiles flexing their muscles early on as Jackson Lloyd homered deep to left field to give the Crocs an early 3-0 lead. The early runs seemed to take the crowd and the energy right off the field as the Mayer City Bigfeet just couldn't get anything going. Final score 5-3 Crocs. Will the Crocs take home the championship today? Come watch what may be the final wiffle ball game for our promoting 8th grade class!

Please do not return your textbooks to the library on your own. Your teachers have reserved time for you to come as a class to bring your textbooks to the library. Check your email from Friday May 14th to see what textbooks you have checked out. The library will send out notices again at the end of this week. If you have any questions, email Mrs. Jeffries or Mrs. Thompson.

Happy Birthday to: Hale Hastings!!
